FREMANTLE PORT
Special Buoy

A scientific research buoy has been placed off Fremantle's northern beaches.

The lit yellow buoy is approximately 3.8nm from the shore in 20.0m of water in position (WGS84):

31 deg 54.689 min South
115 deg 40.767 min East

It is expected this buoy will be in place for the next week and will be removed, with mooring and ground tackle, after research works are complete.

Mariners are advised to navigate with caution.
